ready for the green light?

SILICON VALLEY COMMUNITY CHOICE ENERGY PARTNERSHIP

As part the Silicon Valley Community Choice Energy Partnership, the City of Sunnyvale is developing a new way to provide cleaner, greener electricity for participating residents and businesses. It's the easiest way to reduce your carbon footprint!

Come to our community meeting to learn:

- how cleaner, greener electricity is generated and delivered
- how customers will have a choice among electricity providers
- how other communities have benefited from similar programs
