THE SEARCH FOR LIFE ON OTHER PLANETS

SUNNYVALE, Calif. –Is life a miracle, or merely a cosmic infection? Today, scientists are on the verge of finding out – and learning whether what happened on this planet has happened on millions of others.

To catch us up on some of the recent developments in astrobiology, the SETI Institute's Dr. Seth Shostak will give a talk at the Sunnyvale Public Library at 7 p.m., Thursday, April 29. Shostak, who is also the author of the recent book Confessions of an Alien Hunter: A Scientist's Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence, will discuss the hunt for cosmic company.

The Library is located at 665 West Olive Ave., across from City Hall. Free parking is always available, and VTA line 54 serves the Library. For more information about Library services and activities, visit www.sunnyvalelibrary.org or call the Reference Desk at (408) 730-7300, TDD (408) 730-7501.
